

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3. 1743.

last arrived a Mail from France, and Two from Flanders.

Madrid, Jan. 14.

THE Duke of Berwick, who was dispatch'd by the Infant Don Philip to carry the King the News of the Advantages he had gain'd in Savoy, arrived on the 11th, together with Don Manuel Ponce his Royal Highness's other Aid de Camp. The King received them with the utmost Testimonies of Joy, and was to be sung in the most solemn Manner appointed three Days Publick Rejoycing at his Majesty's Court. It is said his Majesty intends to encrease the Royal Highness with 8 Battalions, 2 Regiments of Dragoons, and a Regiment of Horse, which are assembling in Catalonia. His Majesty was to promote the Duke of Berwick to the Rank of Major in his Armies, and to gratify Don Manuel with a Commandery of the Valde of 2000 Years.

Jan. 1. On the 27th of last Month, being the King's Name-day, the Queen sent the Compliments of all the Foreign Ministers to the Nobility. The same Day an English Man of War arriv'd in this Port, which had been terribly shattered by the late Storm. The Crew report, that they had taken Cape Finister three French Vessels founder. The Weather growing fair, all the Foreign Vessels in the Port are sail'd, and amongst the rest the French ship Don Theodore on board. It is said he is directly to Corfica, with a vast Quantity of Ammunition. They write from Evora, that a young Man whose Name was Joshua Pinto Pereira, died lately, aged 112, and that he was assisted in his last Moments by a Daughter of his, aged 98, and who was herself a Daughter of 74.

Jan. 13. The Rescript lately published by his Majesty, contains a full Answer to all that has been said in the several Pieces publish'd by the Elector of Saxony since the Beginning of the War. It is esteem'd to be the best written Piece that ever appear'd in the German Tongue. It concludes thus: 'Ambition, and the Love of Revenge, are Things the most distant that can be from her Majesty's Heart and Imagination. She is warmly inclin'd to a full and thorough Reconciliation with every Body. She never yet has forfeited her Word, nor can she be inclin'd ever to take any Step which may prove prejudicial to the Common Good, for the Sake of any Advantage whatever. On the contrary, all the World sees to how low a Condition the fundamental Constitution of the Empire, and the Liberty of Europe, must have been reduced at this Time, but for the Steadiness of her Heroick Resolution. Moderation and Pacifick Sentiments are certainly no less necessary in the Midst of good Fortune than in the Midst of Distress; but then we are not to confound a sleepy Indifference for a Sovereign's just Rights. If ever there was just Grounds to expect Satisfaction and Reparation for Injuries past, and just Security for the Time to come, we may be assured that the present is the properest Season to insist on the Demand of such Reparation and Security as equitable, just and necessary. The most sacred Treaties, the Guaranties, the Resolutions of the Empire, its Fundamental Laws, and the incontestable Maxims of the Law of Nations, require both the one and the other; since on this Basis the Safety of Europe, and of all Christendom, can only rest, since a patch'd up Peace could only serve as an Introduction to new and perhaps greater Evils: and whenever the Court of Munich shall sincerely and actually detach itself from that Union with France, which every sensible and well-meaning Bavarian has long ago pronounced fatal, Ways and Means will be found to put an End to all Disputes.'

Jan. 23. The French Minister has left this City very abruptly, and is gone to Frankfort. It is generally reported here, that a Grand Alliance, Offensive and Defensive, is forming between his Britannick Majesty, the Empress of Russia, the Queen of Hungary and Sicily, the King of Prussia, the King of Sardinia, the King of Naples, and our Court; by which the High Allies promise to assemble for the Common Cause an Army consisting of 60,000 Austrians, 16,000 English, 24,000 Hanoverians and Hessians, 15,000 Saxons, 20,000 Prussians, 10,000 Russians, 7,000 Piedmontese, and 12,000 Dutch, and 18,000 Men. Mr. Villers the British Minister had lately a long Conference with the King, in relation, as is believed, to this Affair, and this Morning he set out privately for Vienna. We have received a Confirmation of the various Successes of the Austrian Forces against the French in the Upper Palatinate and in Bavaria.

Extract of a Letter from Geneva, dated Jan 31.

'The Succours we expected from the Canton of Bern are arriv'd; a few Days since a large Body of Spaniards crossed the River Rhone, several Leagues below us, and took their Rout through the Territory of France, in order to take Post in the Village of Verfoy, on the Banks of the Lake, and parting our Territories from those of Bern. This Motion plainly shews their bad Intention against us, for they have no manner of Pretence for going that Way, it being the quite contrary Road for Italy. Should they attack us, we have every Thing in Readiness for giving them a warm Reception, and doubt not, but our advantageous Situation will frustrate any Attempt against us; it being almost impossible for the Spaniards to prevent our receiving Succours from our Allies through the Lake, which will be always open.'

Extract from the Paris Alaman.

Paris, Feb. 8. M. d'Aguesseau, Chancellor and Keeper of the Seals, is dangerously ill at his Country Seat. Cardinal Tencin succeeds the late Cardinal Fleury as Provider of the Sobonne. Messieurs the Abbess de Fleury, have resign'd into his Majesty's Hands the Abbess possess'd by the Cardinal, their Great Uncle, and which, on his Demise, the King had conferr'd upon them. Letters from Genoa of the 30th of last Month say, that they had not lately had any Advices from Corfica, but that it was generally believed the Inhabitants of that Island would persist in their Scheme of maintaining their Independency to the last.

NEW-ENGLAND.

Extract from the Votes of the House of Representatives of his Majesty's Province of Massachusetts-Bay.

Jovis 2 Die Decembris, A. D. 1742.

THE Memorial of Spencer Phipps, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of the Massachusetts-Bay, praying an Allowance for his Service to the Province in the Absence of the late Governor Belcher, at New-Hampshire, &c.

Read, and ordered, That there be allowed and paid out of the publick Treasury to the Memorialist Spencer Phipps, Esq; 100 l. in Consideration of his Readiness to serve the Province, particularly in the Absence of the late Governor Belcher at New-Hampshire.

John Osborn, Esq; brought down the Report of a Committee of both Houses, signed William Dudley, per Order, as follows, viz.

The Committee, to whom was referred that Part of his Excellency's Speech relating to Complaints made by the Captains of his Majesty's Ships of War station'd here, to the Right Honourable the Lords of the Admiralty, and the Honourable Admiral Vernon, of their Mens deserting, and being seduced away from the King's Service by high Wages, &c. given them by Merchants, &c. are of Opinion, That there are in Force good and wholesome Acts of Parliament to prevent the Desertion of Sailors; and that if his Excellency the Governor would issue forth a Proclamation, notifying the People of this Province of the said Acts, or the Import and Penalties therein mentioned, on such Persons as shall seduce away any Sailors from the King's Service; as also to excite the Officers, in the said Acts mentioned, to do their Duty required by the said Acts; it might answer the End his Excellency mentions in his Speech more effectually than any Act of this Court could do. And inasmuch as the Committee know not the particular Captains that have made these Complaints, we cannot particularly report as to their Behaviour when in the Province; but in general, upon the best Enquiry we can make, as well from particular Persons, as what is well known by the Inhabitants of this Town, and the Members of this Court, we apprehend the said Complaints are groundless; and that notwithstanding this Government have always been ready to exert themselves in doing their Duty to his Majesty, in supplying any of his Ships of War with Men, when their Number is lessen'd by Death, or Desertion; yet some of the Captains of the King's Ships occasionally here, have, by their illegal and unjustifiable Proceedings, in impressing Men of their own pretended Power, greatly oppress'd the Trade of this Province, and distress'd the Inhabitants thereof in their lawful Business, by keeping the necessary Supply of Provision, and Firing, out of the Town, to the Ruin of some Families. The Committee do further report, that some of the Captains of the King's Ships have had Vessels of their own, which, without doubt, have been manned by the Sailors in the King's Pay, and thereupon have impress'd Men here, to the great Grievance and Hurt of his Majesty's good Subjects; as also other Captains have extorted Sums of Money, and other Considerations, for the Discharge of some of the Inhabitants of this Province, after they had been impress'd contrary to Law, and his Majesty's Royal Charter, and the Rights of English Men; and therefore if these Matters were put in a true Light to the Lords of the Admiralty, we doubt not but that the said Complaints would appear to their Lordships frivolous and groundless.

Pass'd in Council, viz. in Council, Decemb. 2, 1742. Read and accepted, and voted, That his Excellency be desired to issue a Proclamation accordingly; and also to represent to the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the Affair above-mentioned, in its true Light.

Sent down for Concurrence. Read, and concurr'd. A Memorial of the Honourable Jonathan Belcher, Esq; late Governor of this Province, setting forth, That by Reason of the depreciating the Bills of Credit of this Province during his Administration, he was a very great Sufferer; the several Grants made him not being increas'd in Proportion to the falling of the Bills; and that, by Means thereof, he was necessarily at a greater Expence in supporting his Family, and the Honour of the Government, than all the Grants made him would discharge; therefore praying the wife and favourable Consideration of this Court upon his Memorial. Read, and ordered, That this Memorial be consider'd on Wednesday next, at 3 o'Clock in the Afternoon.
